Summary: Discharge of Federal Stafford Loans and Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (SLS) loans for borrowers affected by school closures. This letter describes the interim procedures for processing discharges and the circumstances under which administrative forbearance may be exercised.

Dear Colleague:

Section 437 of the Higher Education Act has been amended by Section 428 of Pub. L. 102-325 to provide that the Secretary shall discharge the liability of a borrower to repay a Federal Stafford Loan or a Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (SLS) loan if the borrower was unable to complete the educational program in which the borrower was enrolled because the school closed. The provision applies to loans disbursed to borrowers on or after January 1, 1986. The Department is now seeking public involvement through the rulemaking process to develop regulations needed to define the scope of this discharge provision and the procedures to be followed by borrowers to demonstrate that they qualify for discharge.

To discharge loans to students at schools that have closed, lenders and guarantors must follow these guidelines until the regulations are adopted. These are interim guidelines that apply to the handling of Federal Stafford and Federal SLS loans made only to borrowers affected by school closure.

These guidelines include actions for borrowers: in Part I, those who attend under circumstances that the Department has determined would meet any criteria that may be applicable for discharge, and in Part II, those who attend under circumstances which require regulation.

Discharge of Loans for Closed Schools

r discharge. The Department is ready to discharge borrowers in the first category. To secure that discharge, lenders and guarantors must take the steps described here.

Several general conditions or considerations apply to both categories of loans:

- 1) The closing date of a school is the date the school ceased to offer instruction.
- 2) Only loans on which the first disbursement of the Federal Stafford or Federal SLS loan was made to the borrower on or after January 1, 1986 can qualify for discharge (Part I) or forbearance (Part II).
- 3) These guidelines apply to all such Federal Stafford or Federal SLS loans that were incurred for the particular course of study that the borrower was unable to complete because the school closed while the borrower was enrolled and in attendance. The guidelines supersede all previous Department guidelines relating to discharge or forbearance of such loans, including the closed school forgiveness guidance in the Department's May 1989 Dear Colleague letter (89-G-159).
- 4) Until regulations are adopted to fully implement the discharge provisions, Federal Stafford or Federal SLS loans made to borrowers meeting the following criteria may not be submitted for discharge under this provision:
 - (A) Borrowers who were offered a teach-out to complete their course of study at another school that is located within reasonable commuting distance from the closed school, and
 - (B) Borrowers who earned credits at a regionally-accredited closed school that were transferrable for credit towards satisfaction of requirements for a degree, diploma, or certificate in a similar educational program at another regionally- accredited institution.

Reasonable commuting distance under (A) above shall be determined by the guaranty agency. In making this determination, the agency shall consider the distance from the borrower's residence to the teach-out site and the availability to the borrower of a vehicle or public transportation.

Until such final discharge regulations are adopted, the Department strongly recommends that guarantors and lenders give administrative forbearance to the borrowers described in this paragraph. (See Part II)

5) Only a loan that is a legally enforceable obligation of the borrower can be discharged under this provision since any loans which are not legally enforceable obligations of the borrower may not be pursued for collections, and guaranty agencies may not submit claims for reinsurance on them. The Department will provide further guidance on handling certain kinds of loans that are not legally enforceable in a separate "Dear Colleague" letter.

6) For Federal Stafford and Federal SLS loans first disbursed on or after January 1, 1986, the borrower may qualify for discharge of the full amount originally owed on the loan (as specified in #11). Therefore, unless other arrangements are established by the guarantor, the holder of a loan that qualifies for discharge under this provision must refund to the borrower the amount of any payments (voluntary or involuntary) received from the borrower or an endorser on any loan disbursed to the borrower on or after January 1, 1986.

7) If a loan is discharged or the holder of a loan is discharged under this guidance, the holder must report the discharge or forbearance in the information on the borrower that the holder regularly provides to credit reporting agencies.

holder of a loan that discharges the loan under this guidance must take appropriate steps to ensure that any adverse credit history resulting from a discharged loan is deleted.

8) A guarantor that arranges for the discharge or forbearance of a loan under this provision must take appropriate steps to ensure that the loan is excluded from Federal and State tax refund offset collection activities while the discharge is being secured or the forbearance is in effect.

9) When a defaulted loan obligation is discharged under this provision, that default no longer bars the borrower from eligibility for Title IV, HEA student financial assistance.

10) A guarantor may discharge the remaining balance of loans that were partially released under the provisions of Section IV of the Department's May 1989 Dear Colleague letter (89-G-159) because the school the borrower was attending terminated its teaching activities during the borrower's period of enrollment and the borrower was not offered a teach-out.

11) Discharge of loan under these provisions shall qualify the holder for payment of an amount equal to --

A. the sum of--

- i. the original principal;
- ii. interest accrued and outstanding, and interest already paid by the borrower; and
- iii. collection costs incurred by the holder and assessed against the borrower on or about the time at which the costs were incurred and excluding any contingent fee charges except those incurred for recoveries actually made by the firm or person charging the fee,

- B. less any school tuition refunds or payment received by the holder from a tuition recovery fund or performance bond

Part I. Procedure for discharge of indebtedness of borrowers who attended schools identified by the Department as closing without offering the opportunity for a teach-out.

The Department's Closed School Section (CSS) is in the process of identifying schools that closed on or after January 1, 1986 for which no arrangement was made for a teach-out and no teach-out was offered by a third party. Attachment A is a partial list of those schools. Guaranty agencies may submit to CSS, at the following address, the names of other schools that closed and offered no teach-out:

Closed School Section
Institutional Monitoring Division
U.S. Department of Education
P.O. Box 23800
L'Enfant Plaza Station
Washington, D.C. 20202

CSS will attempt to verify the closure date and teach-out status of those schools and add them to the approved list.

Until the Department promulgates regulations governing this procedure and until these guidelines are otherwise superseded, a guarantor that a borrower is not eligible for the discharge of liability of those borrowers who were disbursed a loan for attendance at one of the schools on the approved list of schools that closed must take the following steps:

- a. Determine from its records whether the borrower obtained a loan on or after January 1, 1986 at a school that was a teach-out school for a program scheduled after the school's closure date and for which no earlier separation date was reported.

b. Notify the borrower that a discharge may be available if the borrower was in attendance on the date the school closed, and direct a borrower who seeks discharge to provide a statement containing the borrower's name, Social Security number, and address; the closed school's name and address; the borrower's educational program and, to the best of the borrower's knowledge, his or her dates of enrollment at the closed school; and certifications by the borrower that the borrower:

--was enrolled and in attendance at the closed school on the date it closed, and had not graduated or completed the course of study;

--was unable to complete the course of study in which he or she was enrolled because of the school's closure;

--was not offered an opportunity to complete the remainder of the course of study at another school that was located at a reasonable commuting distance from the closed school;

--was unable to obtain credit towards a degree, certificate, or diploma that the borrower could transfer to another school that offered courses similar to those offered by the closed school;

--did not receive a refund from any other source, such as a state bond or tuition recovery program, because of attendance at the closed school.

c. Authorize lenders holding these loans to submit closed school claims to the guarantor for the loans without undertaking any additional collection activity.

d. Submit closed school claims to the Department for reimbursement in accordance with the instructions contained in Attachment B.

Note: The Department is now revising the Guarantee Agency Monthly Claims and Collections Report (ED Form 1189), and the Guarantee Agency Quarterly/Annual Report (ED Form 113). The revised forms will provide an appropriate reporting item for these loans.

- e. Notify all credit reporting agencies to which the guarantor or the previous loan holder report that the loan obligation has been discharged, and ensure that any adverse credit history related to a discharged loan is corrected.
- f. Retain the promissory note for the discharged loan until receiving additional guidance from the Department.
- g. Notify borrowers of the loan discharge and the correction of any adverse credit history related to the discharged loan.

Guaranty agencies must maintain complete records on every loan discharged, documenting eligibility for discharge. The Department expects guarantors to report this information to the Department at a later date.

Part II. Procedure for forbearance for borrowers who attended schools that closed during a course of study.

The Department strongly recommends that guarantors and lenders forbear collection on loans disbursed to borrowers on or after January 1986 who were affected by the closing of schools not listed on the list of closed, non-teach-out schools. Pending adoption of these guidelines, guarantors and lenders should administratively forbear collection on loans disbursed to borrowers at a now-closed school if the guarantor's records indicate that the guarantor disbursed a loan to attend the school, the records include the date on which the school closed, and the records include the date on which the school was closed from the records of the guarantor, the accrediting body.

Discharge of Loans for Closed Schools

Guarantors are strongly recommended to arrange for administrative forbearance by lenders on loans to borrowers who potentially qualify for discharge. Lenders may suspend further billing and collection actions otherwise required by Department regulations (34 CFR 682.411) with regard to borrowers who appear to satisfy the eligibility criteria described in this letter.

This approval of forbearance by lenders and guarantors is conditioned on the guarantor or lender sending a quarterly statement to the borrower that explains the basis of the forbearance, the limited duration of this stay in collection, the need for the borrower eventually to repay the loan or to demonstrate entitlement to discharge under standards to be developed by the Department, and the accrual of interest on the loan balance during the forbearance period.

Questions about closed schools may be referred to ED's Closed School Hotline at (202) 401-3462.

Sincerely yours,

William L. Moran
Acting Deputy Assistance Secretary for Student Financial Assistance
